

TAG Becomes BRCGS Approved Training Establishment

The Acheson Group (TAG) is proud to announce that it is now licensed by the BRCGS Standard as an Approved Training Enterprise (ATE). Having had several team members qualified as Approved Training Partners (ATPs), TAG has provided training on BRCGS' Global Standards requirements and protocol in the past, but this new recognition now extends that capability to the full enterprise.

This recognition comes at a particularly good time, as BRCGS recently launched its updated Global Standard for Food Safety Issue 9, against which certification commenced in audits in February 2023, and for which it has developed new training courses. As an ATE, TAG can provide training to auditors, sites, consultants, and retailers on the new issue 9. TAG also delivers courses on BRCGS' Global Food Safety Standard and Storage & Distribution Standard.

With two core themes of the new issue 9 being the development of food safety culture and building of core competencies, TAG is particularly skilled for this training, as those themes are core services of TAG's consulting business as well. Trained in the food categories of the BRCGS food standard, TAG ATPs are experienced consultants and trainers with extensive expertise in global food manufacturing, certification audits and the US FDA and Canadian CFIA regulations.

As part of the ATE/ATP BRCGS group, TAG trainers have gone through a rigorous application process and train-the-trainer sessions, and have significant BRCGS experience. Additionally, all ATPs/ATEs work closely with BRCGS and attend various conferences and webinars, so we have the most up-to-date information about the standards and the BRCGS certification scheme.

TAG also can provide ongoing guidance and training to senior managers and production staff and will help you achieve and maintain your certification.
